SCHOOL OPENS MONDAY

The Superintendent and teachers of the Owingsville High and Graded Schools request that each pupil be present at the opening on Monday morning September 8, 1919 at 8:30 o'clock. This is absolutely necessary in order that each child may be classified and get the right start with his class or grade.

It is important to remember that the loss of even a portion of a school session proves to be a serious interruption to progress and tends to produce a lack of interest in school work.

COULD NOT SLEEP

Dr. Schlessner in Misery From Kidney Complaint. Doan's Gave Complete Relief.

"Heavy work brought on my kidney complaint," says Wm. Schlessner, 6088 Suburban Ave., Washington, Mo. "The morning when I was in a bad way I was taken with a sudden pain in my back and fell flat on the floor. I had been hit with a trip hammer, I couldn't have suffered more. I stayed in the house for five weeks and the pain was wearing the life out of me. At times, I couldn't get a wink of sleep because of the misery and I had to get up every few moments to pass the secretions that were highly colored, of foul odor, filled with sandy sediment and terribly scalding. My bladder felt as though it were on fire. The pain brought stupor and a feeling sensation of heat; the torture of it cannot be described. I got onto my feet I couldn't walk but felt dizzy and all in a flutter and everything would turn black. My head would not seem as though my eyes were being dragged out. I started using Doan's Kidney Pills and I was soon rid of all this trouble."

Subscribed and sworn to before me.

C. H. COGGESHALL, Notary Public.

Everybody Knew It. He is a very factious young man who has paid court to a Hoosier school teacher for several years. Now he has formed the habit of often coming after her in his machine, and while he waits for her he amuses himself by teasing the boys. Recently one of the boys reminded him of a promise he had made to take them riding. "Aren't you ever going to do it?" demanded the boy. "Oh, of course—some day," laughed the man. "Didn't you fellows know that I was a regular shark at putting off things?"

The boy was provoked. "Yes, we know it, and so does Miss W.—" He gave the other boys a significant look. "If you weren't that, we'd have a new teacher some day." — Indianapolis News.

HAD THE SPIRIT OF GERMANY.

Old Man Green Might Have Been a Model for Some of the Hun Statesmen.

A senator was discussing one of the German counter-propositions.

"The spirit of the thing," he said, "reminds me of old man Green."

"Old man Green's house was overgrown with weeds," he continued.

"The ratcatcher worked like a Trojan," he said, "and he packed case after case of rat poison."

"Then he said to the old man: 'There you are, Mr. Green. My rat poison is done. You'll have no more rats with rats, and you needn't bother with these here dead ones, neither. I'll cart 'em away myself.'"

"How much do I owe you, friend?" said old man Green.

"Two simoleons, like what was agreed on, boss."

"Then the old man pointed at the huge packing case and said in a protesting voice:

"Don't I get nothing for all them rats?"

Useful Portable Saw. The portable circular saw, attachable to any lamp socket and capable of doing much of the hand saw's work, is now on the market.

Such a saw, self-contained, weighs only 12 pounds, has three and one-quarter inch blades, and consists of a sliding cylindrical base carrying the blade and a one-quarter horsepower motor having a speed of 12,000 revolutions per minute. Special gears insure accurate cross-cut or rip-saw work. The tool is guided by an ordinary saw handle, a push button controls the operation, and a suitable guard gives it safety.

CRISIS FACED

BY COUNTRY

President Wilson Issues Appeal to the Nation For Truce Pending Economic Adjustment

PEACE OF NATION MENACED

Let Us Mobilize For Reconstruction; If We Fail It Will Mean National Disaster; Public Is Warned—Still Higher Prices Inevitable Result of Wage Concussions.

Washington.—President Wilson issued the following appeal to the nation:

My Fellow Citizens—A situation has arisen in connection with the adjustment of the railways which is of such general significance that I think it my duty to make a public statement concerning it, in order that the whole country may know what is involved.

The railroad shopmen have demanded a large increase in wages. They are now receiving $8, 10 and 15 cents per hour. This demand has been given careful and serious consideration by the board which was constituted by the Railroad Administration to adjust questions of wages, a board consisting of an equal number of representatives of employees and of the operating managers of the railroad companies. This board has been unable to come to an agreement, and therefore has devolved upon the Director General of Railroads and myself to act upon the merits of the case.

The shopmen urge that they are entitled to higher wages because of the higher wages for the present received by men doing a similar work in shipyards, navy yards and arsenals, as well as in a number of private industries, but I concur with the Director General in thinking that there is no real basis for comparison between the settled employment afforded mechanics by the railroads under living conditions as various as the location and surroundings of the railway shops and the fluctuation of employment and temporarily stimulated by the war and located almost without exception in industrial centers where the cost of living is highest.

Cost of Living at Its Peak. The substantial argument which the shopmen urge is the very serious increase in the cost of living. This is a very potent argument, indeed. But the fact is that the cost of living has certainly reached its peak and will continue to rise for some time. It is now everywhere being felt and carried out. It certainly will be lowered soon as there are settled conditions of production and of peace are ratified and in operation, and merchants, manufacturers, farmers and miners all have a certain basis of calculation as to what their business will be and what the conditions will be under which it must be conducted.

The demands of the shopmen, therefore, and all similar demands, are in effect this: That we make increase in wages, which are likely to be permanent, in order to meet a temporary situation which will last nobody can certainly tell how long, but in all probability only for a limited time. It increases in wages will, moreover, certainly result in still further increasing the cost of production, and, therefore, the cost of living, and we should only have to go through the same process again.

A substantial increase of wages in leading lines of industry at this time would utterly crush the general campaign which the government is waging, with energy, vigor and substantial hope of success, to reduce the high cost of living. And the increases in the cost of transportation which would necessarily result from increases in the wages of railway employees would more certainly and more immediately have that effect than any other enhanced wage costs. Only by keeping the cost of production on its present level, by increasing production and by saving on the part of the people can there be large decreases in the burdensome cost of living which now weighs us down.

No Time For Higher Rates. The Director General of Railroads and I have felt that a peculiar responsibility rests upon us, because in determining the question we are not studying the balance sheets of corporations merely. We are, in effect, determining the future of the nation.

Physicians Seek Fees. Washington.—Dr. Dudley W. Palmer and Dr. A. E. Deming, staff of the Cincinnati General Hospital, have called attention of authorities here to what appears to be discrimination against doctors at Cincinnati who are not affiliated with the Public Health Service. These doctors, the complaint says, are not allowed any fees for treating war risk insurance patients. Doctors of the Public Health Service are allowed to collect fees for such work. The matter is being investigated.

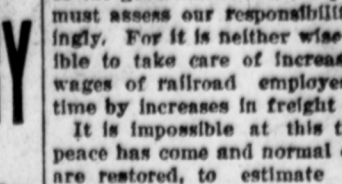

Germany Opens Air Service. Berlin.—With the peace treaty still not ratified by the United States and the allies except Britain, Germany has turned its attention from embassies and military dominance of the aid to the development of commercial aerial traffic. It is the first country to inaugurate regular passenger service. A new commercial passenger carrier, Zepplin, called "Bodenzeppelin," completed its maiden voyage, arrived here with 25 passengers from Friedrichshafen, on the Swiss border.

Linen Handbags. Perhaps as a remnant of the craze and necessity for knitting bags there are now linen handbags—they are obviously inspired by some of the lovely crinkled and linen knitted bags that we carried last summer. They are embroidered in color and decorated with beads and little puff tassels of some soft stuff, like chenille. One, for instance, in heavy cream gray linen—oyster gray, really—embroidered with soft gold beads. The handle is a string of big, jet beads, and at each of the three corners of the bag—the bottom is in a triangle, so that there are three corners—hangs a big blue puff suspended from a big jet bead.

Silver and Gold-Striped. Silver and gold-striped stockings are worn with silver and gold evening slippers. The stockings are made of heavy white silk, and the stripes, three or five of them, are applied in heavy gold or silver thread, woven into a half-inch width, to the instep.

MEN IN PLANT

FIRE ON STRIKERS

APPEAL FOR TROOPS ISSUED AS STRIKE MOB SURROUNDS RICHMOND, IND., PLANT.

Goodrich is Asked to Call Out Soldiers—Building Is Bombed by Enraged Throng After "Breakers" Fire Volley Into Crowd.

Western Newspaper Union News Service. Richmond, Ind.—The mob of striking iron molders and strike sympathizers broke into the plant of the Richmond Malleable Casting Co. and captured the strike breakers. These men surrendered, after which the mob formed a hollow square and escorted them to the railroad station, where they were placed aboard a train for Chicago. All windows in the factory which had not been broken during the bombardment by the mob were shattered when the crowd forced its way into the building to capture the strike breakers.

Two companies of Indiana state militia were in readiness to proceed to the plant of the Richmond Malleable Casting Company to preserve order in the foundry, which was surrounded by a mob of striking molders and sympathizers, who threatened to lynch 73 strikebreakers at work in the plant. Decision as to the use of the state troops was reserved, however, pending the fulfillment by the strikebreakers of their promise, made after a conference with Assistant Police Chief McNally, to leave the city for Chicago on the first available train. Plans for troops were telegraphed to Gov. James P. Goodrich after Mayor William Zimmerman, Guthrie Freeman, Prosecuting Attorney of Wayne county, Sheriff Glen Carr and Police Chief Alexander Gorman had decided that the situation at the plant was beyond the control of city and county authorities.

The decision to appeal to the Governor for troops was reached at a secret conference at the City Hall. Strikers and their friends determined to force the strikebreakers to leave the plant, the city, and when they failed to do so, they turned to the Governor for help. They were met by a fusillade of shots fired by the men in the plant. None were wounded, but the volley enraged the mob to such an extent that bombardment of the building was begun. Police reserves who answered a riot call were unable to handle the crowds, and stones, bricks, clubs and other missiles were hurled at the factory.

The mob increased in numbers as the report of the clash spread throughout the city, and the crowd, thus augmented, blocked traffic in the vicinity of the casting factory. With the exception of the 73 strikebreakers, no one was permitted to enter the plant. The strikebreakers manifested no desire to engage in a pitched battle, but remained securely barred behind the gates of the plant.

WOODROW WILSON. The White House.

Teachers Will Profit. Detroit, Mich.—Detroit's 3,000 school teachers also will benefit under the plan suggested by Mayor Couzens and approved by the Council, by which city employees receive less than $1,700 a year are to be given a "high-cost-of-living allowance" in addition to their regular salaries. This was announced by Mayor Couzens, following a conference with Frank Cody, Superintendent of Schools, and Charles A. Gadd, Business Managers of the Board of Education.

New York Girl Arraigned. New York.—Thirteen-year-old Frances Sulinsky appeared without counsel before Magistrate Brown, of Brooklyn, to plead to a charge that she poisoned Sonon Kramer, her employer's baby, in the hope that she would be directed at the child's aged nurse, with whom she had quarreled. And the case was continued until September 2.

Britain Plans Economy. London.—Sir Auckland Geddes, Minister of National Service and Reconstruction, speaking at Basingstoke of Government economy, announced that a special financial committee, of which Premier Lloyd George is chairman, has been formed and that the Premier was throwing himself with great energy into the work of cutting down expenditures.

Muck's Successor Arrives. New York.—Pierre Montoux, successor to Karl Muck as leader of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, arrived here on the works of several new French composers, but said German music would have its place on his program. Muck, who had been interned, sailed for Germany last week.

Warned About India. London.—A grave warning about possibilities in India arising from the activities of the extremists was uttered by Sir Harcourt Butler, Secretary of the Indian Government, in the course of testimony before the committee of the Government which is considering the India bill. He said the extremists were increasing rapidly, and were using a vigorous propaganda against the Government, combative and nationalist and backed by slander and misrepresentation.

Roumanians Mobilizing. Paris.—A report received in Paris says that Roumanians are mobilizing their forces in Banat and Transylvania. N. P. Bachtich, former premier and head of the Serbian delegation, says the Serbians are reinforcing troops on their line through Banat, established by the Supreme Council, because the Roumanians are concentrating on the other side. The Supreme Council discussed Roumanian attitude in the Hungarian situation, and sent Roumanian another note saying that the council impatiently awaited a reply.

Steamer Munaires Sinking. New York.—The Munson Line Steamer Munaires, outbound for Newport News, was in collision with another steamer, the Andrew Channel, according to a radio message received here, and is reported to be sinking fast. The Munaires is a vessel of 3,750 tons.

Thirty Persons Who Ate in Cafe Hit. Chicago.—Arsenic was found in sandwiches eaten by 30 persons who were poisoned, according to Health Commissioner Robertson.

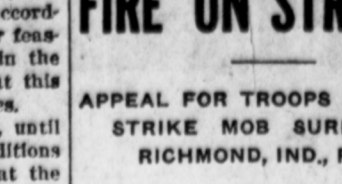

Superstition. "What you ought to do is to get at the inside fact," asserted "That" when "I'm doing," asserted "No, you're not. You are satisfied to see the mob box entirely disregarding its contents."

A Paradox. "It is queer," said a man in his wife's car, "to see a job unless there's a freebooter."

What Is It? "What is it?" asked a man in his wife's car, "to see a job unless there's a freebooter?"

Jacqueline of Golden River by Victor Rousseau

"FOR MY SAKE!"

Paul Hewlett, loitering at night in Madison square, New York, is approached by an Eskimo dog. He follows the dog to a gambling house and meets the animal's mistress coming out with a large amount of money. She is beautiful and in distress, and he follows her to the room of the night. He returns a little later to find a murdered man in his room and Jacqueline dead, with her memory gone. He decides to protect Jacqueline, gets rid of the body and prepares to take her to Quebec in a search for her home. Simon Leroux, searching for Jacqueline for some untold purpose, finds her. He tells her that she is the daughter of a recluse in the wilds, Charles Duchaine. For Antoine tells Hewlett that Jacqueline is married and tries to take her away. Jacqueline is spirited away and Hewlett is knocked out, both escape and arrive at St. Boniface. On their sled journey to Chateau Duchaine their dogs are poisoned, and Hewlett goes snow-blind. Jacqueline recovers her memory and leaves Hewlett. Pure Antoine rescues Hewlett from death in the snow. He says Jacqueline is the wife of Louis d'Epernay, nephew of Charles Duchaine. Hewlett makes his way to Chateau Duchaine.

CHAPTER XII—Continued.

I turned back and followed the corridor to the right and came to a little hall toward the rear of the building. Beyond me was an open door, and behind it I saw the dull glow of a stove and felt its heat.

I approached cautiously and looked in.

Facing me, above a cracked and ancient mirror, were two rusty broadswords, and in the mirror I saw a large oak table reflected. Seated at it, clothed in a "redoubtable coat of yellow satin, an old man with long, snow-white hair and a white, forked beard. He was busily transferring a stack of gold pieces from his right to his left side; and then he began scribbling on a sheet of paper. He said me not the smallest attention as entered.

I perceived that the top of the table was curiously designed. It was marked off with squares and columns, and in each square were figures in black and red. Upon one end of the table at which the old man sat was a cup-shaped, circular affair of very dark wood—tenk. It resembled—once deftly inlaid with pearls. Beyond me the end of the inlay had disappeared, leaving unsightly holes.

At the bottom of the cup were a number of metallic compartments, and the whole interior portion was revolving slowly at a turn of the old man's fingers.

The ball stopped and settled in one of the compartments, and the old man took a goldpiece from one of the squares on the table, transferred a little pile of gold from his right side to his left, and jotted down some figures upon his paper.

And suddenly I was aware of an abnormal rage that filled me. It seemed like an abominable dream. I had endured so much for Jacqueline, to find myself immersed in such things in the end. I stepped forward and swept the entire heap of gold into the center of the table.

"M. Duchaine!" I shouted. "Why are you playing the fool here when your daughter is suffering persecution?"

The old man seemed to be aware of my presence for the first time. He looked up at me out of his mild old eyes and shook his head in apparent perplexity.

"You are a welcome, monsieur," he said, half rising with a courtly air. "Do you wish to stake a few pieces in a game with me?"

He gathered up a handful of the coins and pushed them toward me.

"You see, monsieur, I have a system—at least I nearly have a system. LESSON FOR SEPTEMBER 7

PARABLES OF THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN.

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 13:31-35, 41-46. GOLDEN TEXT—Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness.—Matt. 6:33.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Obedience to the king. JUNIOR TOPIC—A message of the king. INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—The growth of the kingdom. SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—The extent of the kingdom.

1. The Parable of the Mustard Seed (v. 31, 32).

Three things mainly occupy our attention in this parable:

1. Its unimportant beginning. It begins as the least of all seeds and grows to be the greatest among herbs. The king was of ordinary parentage and humble circumstances. He selected unlettered fishermen as his royal advisers. The prophet had said concerning him that he would be "despised," "rejected," "forsaken," "cut off" and as "having nothing."

2. Its vigorous growth. From these small beginnings Christ's influence has gone forth so that there is no power or influence equal in greatness to that of Christendom.

3. Its lodging capacity. The birds which find lodgment in the tree do not represent the children of men who find safety and salvation in the church. The birds constitute no part of the tree, while the believer becomes a part of the tree, adding to its strength and fruitfulness. The birds are something foreign to the tree, and are burdensome and injurious to it. They come to find shelter and wait to pluck off the tender buds, or to prey upon the ripened fruit. The effect of their lodging in the tree is evil and blighting. In Christ's interpretation (v. 19) he said that the fowls represent the wicked ones. He who would make the lodgers here anything else makes Christ's interpretation a farce. The same Greek word is used in both cases, and the circumstances are the same.

The Parable of the Leavened Meal (v. 33).

Three things mainly occupy our attention here: the meal, the woman, and the leaven.

1. The meal. Meal has a wholesome and nutritious effect. It was used in one of the sweet-savour offerings which were typical of Christ (Lev. 2:13 R. V.). It was food for the priests (Lev. 6:15-17 R. V.); Abraham had Sarah to knead a cake out of three measures of meal for the angelic messengers of the Lord (Gen. 18:6); Solomon's royal table was provided with meal (II Kings 4:2); Elijah was fed upon cakes made of meal (II Kings 4:41); Elisha used meal as an antidote for the poison of death from the pot (II Kings 4:38-41).

2. The woman. In scripture we find false doctrine being taught by woman (Rev. 2:20). Dealing with false doctrine is forbidden to women (I Tim. 2:12). In I Tim. 4:19; II Tim. 2:17, 18; II Peter 2:1-3, we find that the apostasy will be brought in through false teaching within the ranks of God's people. The meaning, then, of the parable is that the true doctrine, the meal given for the nourishment of the children of the kingdom (II Peter 2:2; I Tim. 4:6), will be officially corrupted by false doctrine. Woman is a type of the church in some sense. The church is hiding away false doctrine, and its corrupting effects are seen on every hand.

3. The leaven. In scripture leaven is invariably a type of evil. (1) All through the Old Testament leaven is continually and unvaryingly a type of evil (Ex. 12:15; Lev. 2:11). It is inconceivable that Jesus should arbitrarily change, without due notice and explanation, a word from an evil to a good sense, which the Spirit of God had so unchangingly used for two thousand years. (2) Jesus himself makes leaven to denote sin (Matt. 16:6, 12; Mark 8:15). (3) Paul uses leaven in its usual biblical sense (I Cor. 5:6-8; Gal. 5:8, 9). Further, this is the only interpretation that will harmonize with Christ's interpretation of the first two parables. Facts patent to all prove that the professed church today is feeling upon leaven of legalism and legalism instead of the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth—the Word of God.

III. The Parable of the Hidden Treasure (v. 44).

IV. The Parable of the Merchant Seeking Pearls (v. 45, 46).

V. The Parable of the Drag Net (v. 47-50).

(For a detailed study of the last three parables see the Review for September 28.)

Consideration of the Morrow.

Calm and prudent consideration of the morrow, so far from being a sin, is one of the very first Christian duties, and is so taught by the Holy Ghost in the New Testament; where people are especially enjoined to labor, working with their hands the thing which is good, that they may have to give to him that needeth.—Keeble.

KEPT HER AWAKE
The Terrible Pains in Back and Sides. Cardui Gave Relief.

Marksville, La.—Mrs. Alice Johnson, of this place, writes: "For one year I suffered with an awful misery in my back and sides. My left side was hurting me all the time. The misery was something awful."

I could not do anything, not even sleep at night. It kept me awake most of the night. I took different medicines, but nothing did me any good or relieved me until I took Cardui.

By time I had taken the entire bottle, I was feeling pretty good and could straighten up and my pains were nearly all gone.

I shall always praise Cardui. I continued taking it until I was strong and well. If you suffer from pains due to female complaints, Cardui may be just what you need. Thousands of women who once suffered in this way now praise Cardui for their present good health. Give it a trial.

County Tax Commissioner's Notice.
September 2nd, 1919.

I do hereby notify all tax payers of Bath county, if they only be a poll tax payer, that under the revenue law of 1918 it is now made the duty of the Assessor, now called the County Tax Commissioner, to keep his office open during all business hours for the purpose of receiving lists of all tax payers and it is also made the duty of every tax payer to appear before said county Tax Commissioner at said office between July 1st and October 31 and give in his or her list and upon his or her failure to do so last after proper notice is given a fine of fifty ($50) is imposed against them.

Under said law one of my deputies or myself will be at the office in the Court House in Owingsville, Bath County, Ky., for the purpose of receiving your list from the above date until the 31st day of October, 1919 which is the last date prescribed by law for the County Tax Commissioner to list property unless further time should be extended by the State Tax Commission after that date. So I kindly ask all taxpayers to come in and give their list at once and not wait to the last day to give in their lists as there might be a rush during the month of October and some taxpayers might have to make extra trips to give in their list.

I am very thankful to the tax payers for complying with the new law during the past year and for the courtesy that they are showing me this year by coming in so promptly to give in their list. This will enable me to discharge my official duties.

Most Respectfully yours,
W. D. BAILEY,
Bath County Tax Commissioner.
